Exploring With the Circle Map

Look at the the person's map...who does he already know?

Which of these people can be invited into his life?

Who might the person be able to be reconnected with?

What interests does the person have?

Are there people
from our circles who share those interests? Can introductions be made?

Are there ways to create opportunities for participation
based upon interests?

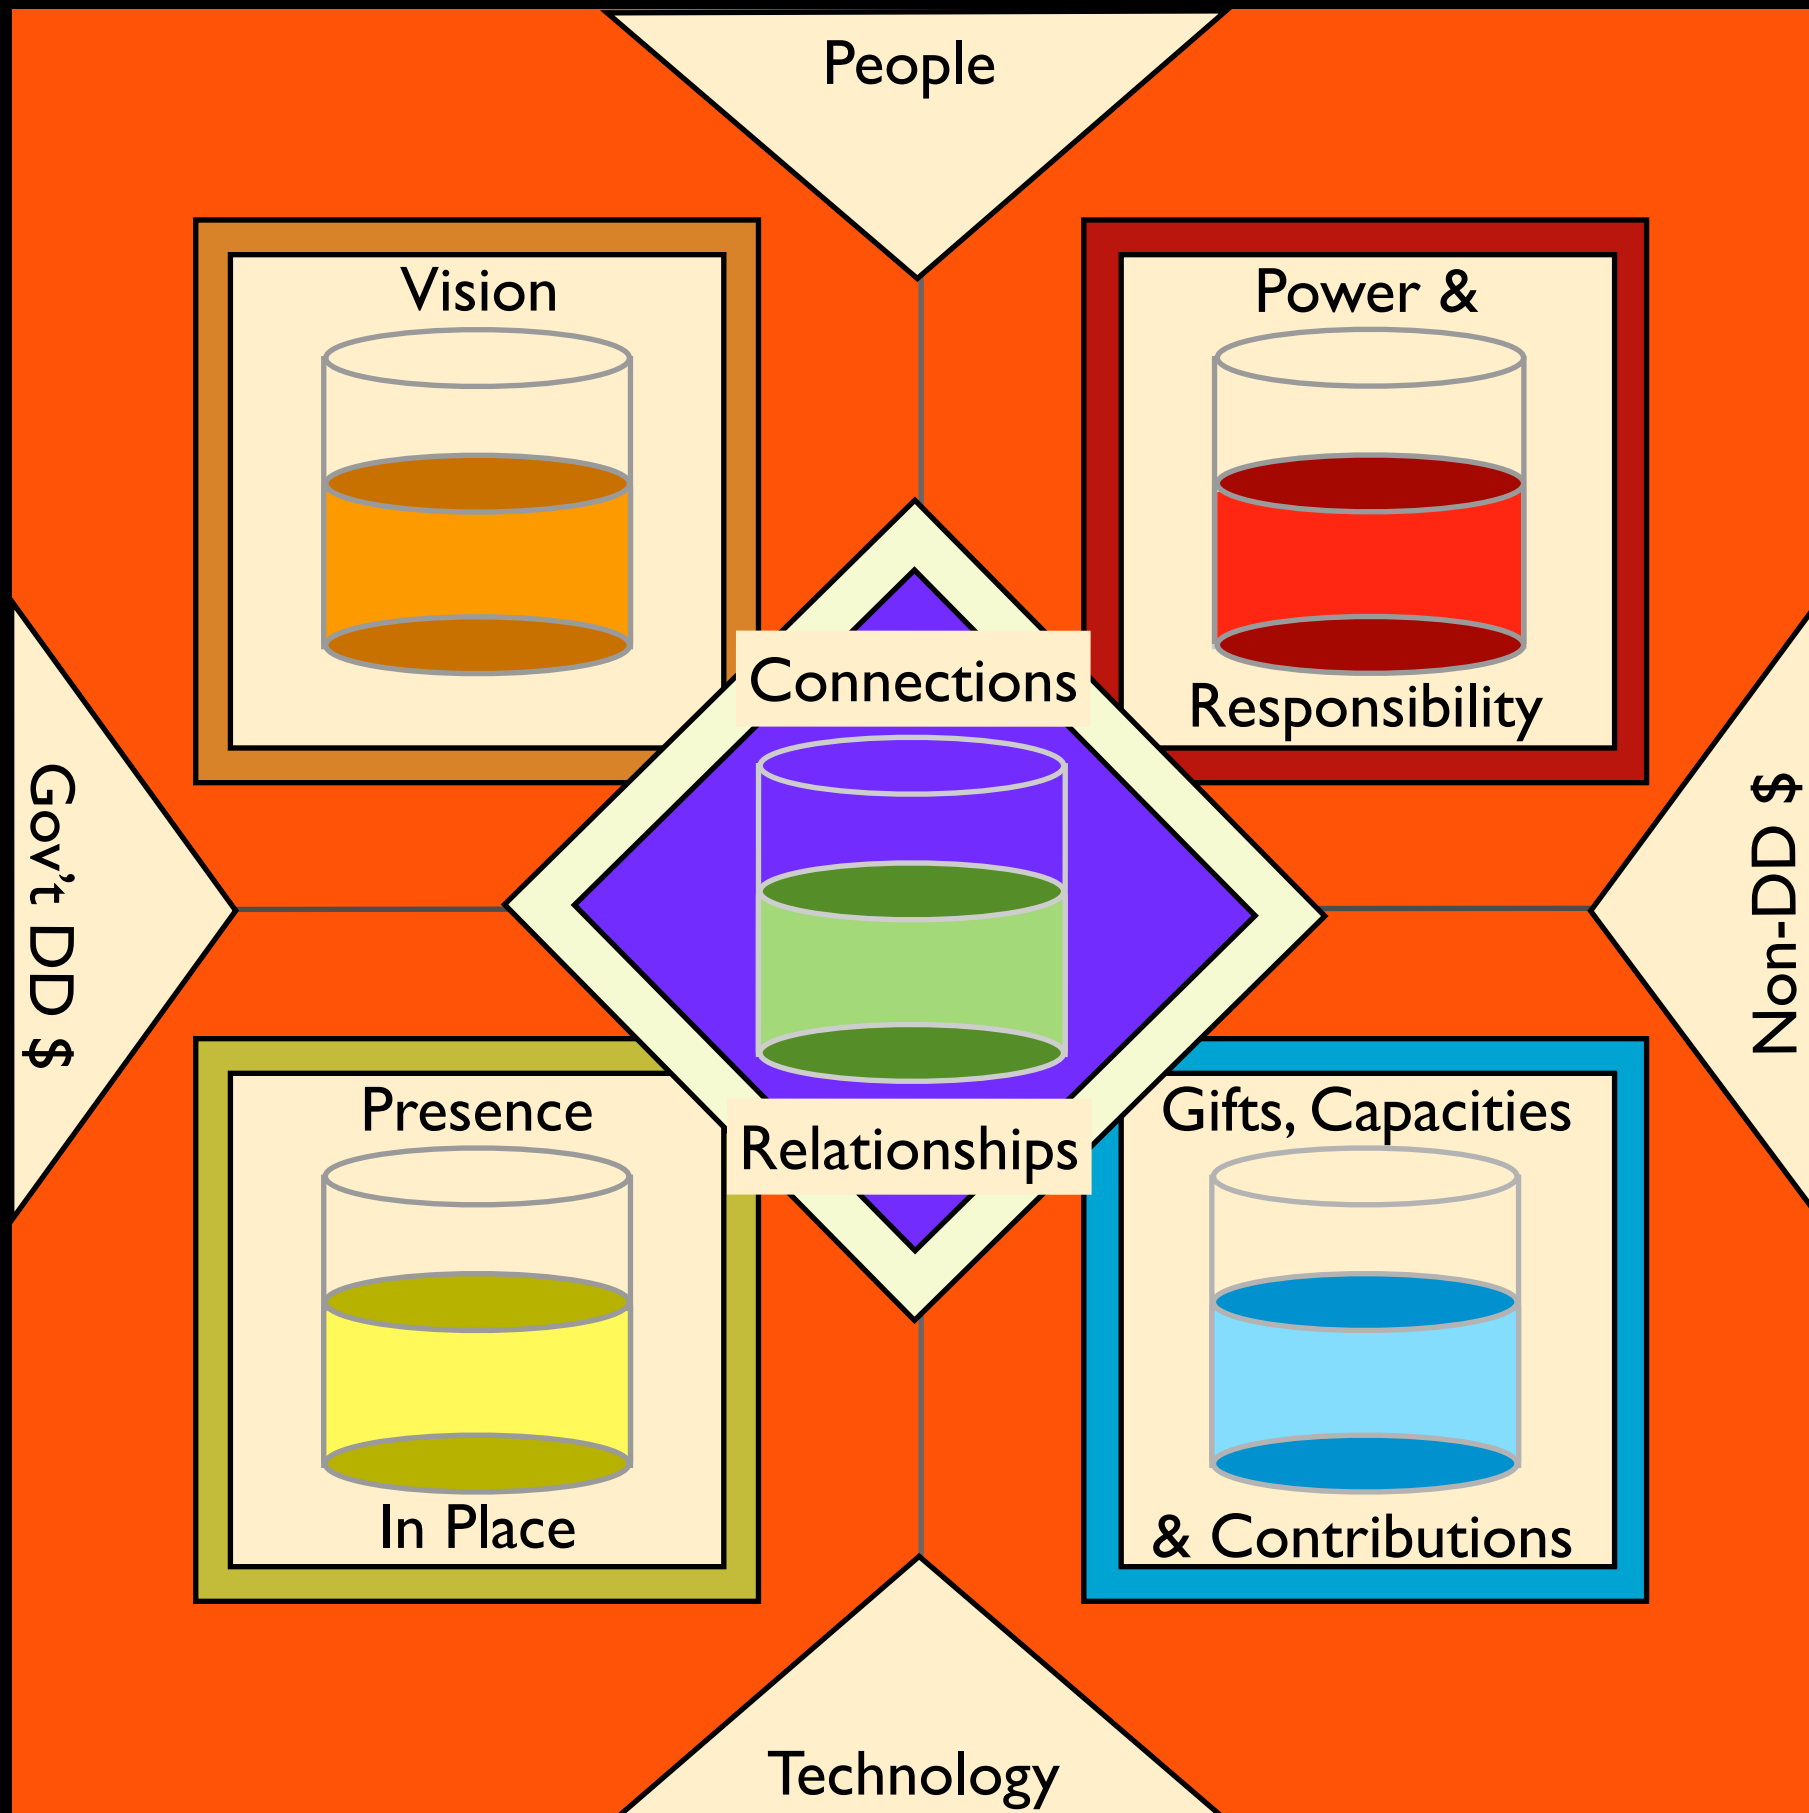

Is there anyone who can be a "champion" for that person?
Someone who really loves them or believes in them?

Bringing Value to Others is Important

for our safety,
and survival

People must Spend Time
With Others

if they are to become known for what they can bring that is valuable
